RIVER MEETING.

Big Sandy Appropriation to be Asked For.

January 10th Is Date Fixed for Rivers and Harbors Committee to Hear Representatives from this Valley.

Mr. M. F. Conley,
Editor Big Sandy News,
Louisa, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I would respectfully request that you publish in the columns of your newspaper the accompanying notice sent to me by Congressmen Bennett, Langley, Hughes and Johnson, of a hearing as to the further improvement of the Big Sandy River, to be held before the Rivers & Harbors Committee on January 10, 1910. It is highly important to all the countries of the Big Sandy Valley that as large a delegation as it is possible to send, be present at this hearing in behalf of Big Sandy River. A very active effort is being made by the Ohio River Improvement Association to obtain a large appropriation for the improvement of the Ohio River, and an active effort by those interested in the improvement of the Big Sandy will result, in my judgment in securing an appropriation sufficient to construct two more dams, one at each fork of the river. I most earnestly urge upon all citizens and interests that will be thereby benefited, that a large delegation be present in Washington at this hearing.

Yours very truly,

JAY H. NORTHUP,
Pres. Big Sandy River Imp. Assn.

December 15, 1909.

My Dear Sir:

The Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House of Representatives has been holding various hearings relative to desired improvements throughout the country. We have been before the Committee this day, relative to certain improvements in our section in which our people are vitally interested.

We have succeeded in arranging for a hearing as to the continuation of the improvement on the Big Sandy River, on January 10, 1910, at 11:30 a.m., also for a hearing as to lock and dam No. 29, in the Ohio River.

We know you are greatly interested in appropriations being made at this session of Congress for these improvements, and we therefore write you requesting that you aid us in getting a good delegation to come before the Committee on the said 10th of January and assist us in convincing the Committee that any Rivers and Harbors bill passed at this session should include appropriations for these works.

Yours very truly,

J. B. BENNETT,
M. C. 9th Ky. District.
JNO. W. LANGLEY,
M. C. 10th Ky. District.
A. R. JOHNSON,
M. C. 10th Ohio District.
J. A. HUGHES,
M. C. 5th W. Va. District.

Lawrence Circuit Court.

The next regular term of the Lawrence Circuit Court will begin on Monday, January 10, 1910. Judge Hannah and Prosecuting Attorney Waugh will appear as usual, but H. R. Hewlett will appear in place of Bert Shannon, clerk, Sheriff Stone will give way to John Carter, James Hinkle succeeds William Savage as assistant prosecutor, and Al. Hayes will bob up serenely when His Honor says, "Mr. Jailer, the prisoner is in your custody."

Are in Louisa.

I. A. Skene and family have left Chapman and are in quarters at Sam Bromley's. They will remain here until the work of cleaning up is finished at the dam and the machinery and other property of the contractors shipped to another point. Then Mr. and Mrs. Skene and daughter will go to New Orleans for the winter.

Surgical Operations at Hospital.

Dr. W. B. McClure, of Lexington, Ky., came to this city on Saturday last, and while here until next morning he was pretty busy. All his operation work was done at the hospital. Some of the work done was of a difficult and serious character. Of this description was an operation for the relief of Clifford Justice, son of S. J. Justice, C. & O. agent for Louisa. The lad had a very serious nasal trouble, caused by a deviation of the partition of the nose. This trouble was entirely relieved and the lad is doing well.

Mrs. Worley, daughter of James Picklesimer, had long suffered with what is known as a polypoid growth in the nose. The affection was a serious one and can be described only by the use of terms not understood by the general reader. The work was done under local anesthesia, and Mrs. Worley was compelled to remain in the hospital a day or two. Tonsillar and adenoid growths were removed from a little boy of G. W. Hanley's, of East Fork, Danville and Nell Conley, of Louisa. Dr. McClure returned to Lexington on Sunday.

Lawrence County Tobacco.

A considerable sum of money is coming into Lawrence county this year from tobacco. Prices are good. Several crops have been sold in the barns at 13 to 13½ cents. It was stripped, but not prized by the growers.

Snyder and Smith sold fifteen hogsheads in Cincinnati this week at an average of over 16 cents gross, or about 15½ cents net. Some of it brought a little over 18 cents per pound.

INTERESTING CASES.

Arrest and Release of John Stidham and Consequent Damage Suit.

A few days ago John Stidham, whose home is somewhere about Hickardson or Dobbins, and who has been working as a miner near Williamson, W. Va., came to Torchlight. Soon after his appearance there he was, at the instigation or request of the Superintendent of the Louisa Coal Company, so it is said, arrested by deputy sheriff Riskman on a charge of enticing men to leave the employ of said company.

Stidham was brought to Louisa by the deputy, but, so the NEWS is informed, Sheriff Stone, who had posted himself concerning the law governing such cases, advised that he be allowed to go at liberty. This was done. It is said that there is no statute in Kentucky which exactly covers a case like this. The Federal Court, however, takes cognizance of such cases, making such actions felonious and prescribing severe penalties.

Mr. Bartels, the Superintendent of the Louisa Coal Co., was advised to go before the Federal grand jury which was then in session at Catlettsburg and procure the indictment of Stidham. If he did this the NEWS has no information of it.

The latest act in the case is a suit brought by Stidham for damages for false imprisonment. Such a suit has been filed in the Circuit Court against the Louisa Coal Company and Mr. Bartels for one thousand dollars.

Good Roads Amendment.

The good roads amendment to the constitution, which was adopted at the November election, does not, as is by many erroneously supposed, automatically tax any county, says the Cythiana Democrat. It simply gives the people of a county the right to vote for the issue of bonds or for other means, to secure funds to improve and maintain the turnpikes and other public roads. No county is taxed unless the people of that county vote the tax on themselves.

Reported Burned to Death.

Reported reached here last week that a child of James Jude, on Buck Creek, in Wayne county, was burned to death. The particulars have not been learned.

Kidnapping Case at Louisville.

The case of the missing girl, Little Alma Kellner, of Louisville, continues as great a mystery as ever. Every possible clue, even those leading to distant cities, has been run down, but the fate of the child is shrouded by a horrible uncertainty. The abduction theory has been abandoned, and the parents and a majority of the public believe that she is dead or is the victim of a degenerate.

The following from Louisville gives the latest phase of the awful situation:

With no demand made for ransom, nor any motive disclosed for the kidnapping of Alma Katherine Kellner, if she was abducted, the police and detectives today began active work on the theory that she was the victim of a degenerate. The whereabouts and movements of certain local characters of low type, who in the past have served workhouse sentences for acts of indecency previous to and following the disappearance of the girl, are being investigated.

The case is without new features or developments. Mentally and physically exhausted by the intense strain which they have undergone for twelve days, Mr. and Mrs. Kellner are suffering more severely today than at any time. Both are confined to bed at their home.

They have both borne up remarkably under the trying ordeal, but gradually the grief and anxiety has weakened them. The relapse follows the blow of disappointment that befell them Sunday, when it was found that the child who had been detained by officers at Washington, Ind., was not their daughter, their hopes for successful results in this clew had been buoyed to expectancy and when the clew proved to be only another worthless one they suffered a collapse.

We have no information as to what the next step will be in this unusual complication.

We are informed that a bogus certificate giving the vote of Lawrence county is in the hands of the Secretary of State, and the mix-up is charged to this fact.

TWO JUDGES.

The Lawrence County Court Well Provided For.

State Officials Have Commissioned Both Candidates Who Ran Last November.

✓ Lawrence now has two County Judges—W. M. Justice and David Boggs.

On last Saturday Mr. Boggs received a commission from the State officials at Frankfort. The NEWS last week told about Mr. Justice, contestant for the office, having received a commission.

The Secretary of State requested the return of the Justice commission after he learned of the error, but Justice had already executed bond and been sworn in.

Mr. Boggs also has qualified for the office and we have twin judges. Unless something happens to one of them it will be interesting to watch both preside over the court.

We have no information as to what the next step will be in this unusual complication.

We are informed that a bogus certificate giving the vote of Lawrence county is in the hands of the Secretary of State, and the mix-up is charged to this fact.

DIFFICULT OPERATION.

Fiscal Court Holds Special Session.

The Fiscal Court held a special term on the 16th of this month, it having been called for the purpose of transacting business with the Sheriff. This officer presented his delinquent list, nearly all of which was allowed. In one or two precincts the magistrates will pay the tax themselves if the delinquents live; there can not pay before the final settlement.

On the second Monday in next month the final closing of accounts will be made. Sheriff Stone cannot finally adjust until after he makes some land sales. All the magistrates will be in attendance on the first day of Circuit Court, and on that day they will convene as a Fiscal Court and clean up the outstanding business.

She Has Louisa Relatives.

Prof. T. B. McClure, of Wayne, was in the city a short while last night and went to Kenova, where he expected to meet his daughter, Miss Lucretia, who was returning from the Maryland Female College, near Baltimore, where she expects to graduate the coming spring. Miss McClure is making a fine record in her school work, as indicated by her examination grades, and the Professor, like any other father, is justly proud of her. The young lady has numerous relatives in this city and community, she being a niece of Mrs. Watt Andrews and of Mrs. D. S. Martin, Sr., whom she may visit during her holiday vacation.—Catlettsburg Tribune.

They Will Act This Way.

Morgan Vovers, an employee of the Chess & Wireman Co., of Prestonsburg, sustained a painful injury Monday by carelessly allowing a large cannon cracker to explode in his left hand, which took off most of the hand.

Mose Goodman, of Floyd county, shot and probably fatally wounded Sam Nelson Sunday night. Goodman is still at large.

Extended Telephone Service.

The Southern Bell Telephone Co. has just completed its line to Williamson, W. Va., and the exchange at that place is in fine working order.

Also, a new line on Whites creek, in Wayne county, has been completed, covering service to a large number of farmers.

Federal Court Transactions.

The criminal docket in the Federal Court was concluded at noon Thursday and the work of the past three and a half days indicates that Judge Cochran and the court officers and attaches have been a busy set of men. Seventy-seven cases have been up for consideration, in which the accused have been found guilty, as charged, and were fined $100 and given a jail sentence.

Allen Dehart was convicted and given a thirteen month sentence, in the Federal prison at Atlanta, as was also Joe Mays.

The stiffest sentence given during the term was that in Jack Conn's case. Conn was from Rowan county and was charged with counterfeiting and was found guilty, his sentence being five years in the Atlanta prison.

Thursday morning court bullif, Claude York, and deputy marshal, Wm. May, left for Atlanta with those sentenced to it.

Out of the 77 cases for illicit retailing Floyd county furnished the largest number, it having reported 28, while Pike county had nine. The other cases were distributed among the other counties, with the exception of a case which came from Portsmouth, Ohio.

Fifty of those receiving sentences were kept in the Boyd county jail, and the remainder of them will be sent to other county jails, principally in the counties where they belong.—Catlettsburg Tribune.

Court of Appeals Docket.

For the benefit of those concerned the NEWS published that part of the docket of the January term of the Court of Appeals that is of local interest:

Friday, Jan. 14—L. & N. Railroad Co. vs. Gay, Clark, C. & O. Railway Co. vs. Bank's administrator, Clark; Johnson vs. Equitable Life Assurance Society, Montgomery; Bates, vs. Bates, Knott; Dils, etc., vs. Justice, etc., Pike; Goff, etc., vs. Lowe, etc., Pike; Collinsworth vs. Bevins, etc., Pike; Hurley, Jr., vs. Big Sandy & Cumberland Railroad Co., Pike; Johnson, Jr., vs. Johnson, Sr., Pike; Campbell vs. Fourth National Bank, Pike; Crown Lumber Co. vs. McCoy, Lawrence; Moore vs. Shannon, Lawrence; Wallace vs. Everett, trustee, Boyd; Young vs. City of Ashland, Boyd; Davis vs. Catlettsburg, Kenova, Ceredo Water Co., etc., Boyd; American Car Foundry Co. vs. James, etc., Boyd.

Upon His Mother's Head.

The sins of the child are visited often upon the head of the parent. Broken down in body and in sore distress, Mrs. Hargis, widow of Judge James Hargis, the Breathitt county constable, presents a pathetic spectacle today, the result of perhaps the most bloody feud ever known in Kentucky's history.

Mrs. Hargis, mother of Beach Hargis, the young man who was sentenced to prison for life for killing his father, is but a mere shadow of her former self. Her mind, once alert and active in the constant defense of her son, is said to be failing, and physicians fear she will go insane.

"Political Leader."

The Huntington Advertiser speaks as follows of a well known Big Sandy woman:

"Miss Judith Davidson, County Clerk of Floyd county, Ky., is here on a visit, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Newberry. In addition to being County Clerk Miss Davidson is one of the political leaders of Floyd county. She is a Democrat and secured the office which she now holds. Her politics is of the practical sort and her work for the advancement of the rights of women is tainted with some of the banner-carrying, parade-leading features which have marked the suffragettes in the Eastern States and in England."

Superintendent O'Daniel.

County Superintendent elect Jay H. O'Daniel was in Louisa on Monday for the purpose of giving bond. He did this important work in a highly satisfactory manner and was duly sworn to perform the responsibilities of county superintendent of schools. His duties begin January 1, 1910.

Don't Forget the Poor.

We are all tolerably poor, thank you, during this era of unexampled prosperity which was promised us a little over a year ago, but there are some right here in Louisa who are much poorer than others. Some, said to tell, are, in the graphic language of our people, "on sufferance."

There is a worthy old couple, for instance, living in the last house but one as you walk Pike alley way to the cemetery. Both are very old. The old man worked as long as he could, but accident and age have thrown him in the discard in the game of life, and he is helpless. His old wife still earns fifty cents a week with her tub and board. An equally infirm female relative earns probably as much, and these ones hundred cents maintain the three.

There are the vicious poor as well as the vicious rich, but these old people are honest and virtuous. Their neighbors are kind—did you ever know a Big Sandy neighbor who was not—but neighbors can't do it all. Remember them and others, if others there be, and make Christmas 1909 happily remembered by them. They will not see many more.

"Triple Tragedy."

Hardly so bad as that, but bad enough. A neighboring newspaper speaks of the recent malicious cutting and wounding on Bear Creek as a "triple tragedy." This is alliterative all right, but "serious stabbing" sounds just as well and is much nearer the truth.

The wounded are doing well, or are reported, and Tom Workman is probably doing well to keep out of reach of the officers.

KENTUCKY NORMAL COLLEGE.

Largest Attendance Ever Known Will Soon be With Us.

Kentucky Normal College has the brightest prospects in its history for a large and successful school for the winter and spring terms. The winter term will open January 3rd. Pupils will be here from fifteen counties of Eastern Kentucky and there will also be a large attendance from West Virginia.

All departments of the college are in excellent hands and the faculty is full of enthusiasm.

The pupils will receive a warm welcome from teachers and citizens. We are glad to have them. The churches and Sunday Schools pay particular attention to the students, and in fact they are shown special courtesy by all of our people. Louisa is proud of the school and of the good it is doing for the young people of the mountains. It is the leading institution of learning in Eastern Kentucky.

Conductor Killed at Prichard.

A shocking accident occurred at Prichard, a station on the N. & W., about 12 miles north of this place, by which Clarence Duis, a freight conductor, lost his life in a most horrible manner. About four o'clock on last Friday morning he stopped his train at Prichard and ran onto a siding on account of a hot box. He dropped the car, and in recoupling his head was caught between the bumpers and almost crushed from his body. Death was almost instant. His body was also badly mangled. The remains were taken to Kenova. Duis ran out of Portsmouth, but his home is not known here.

Scarlet Fever in Pikeville.

Because of the presence of scarlet fever in Pikeville the Board of Health has concluded to stop the Sunday Schools, church entertainments, and all other Christmas festivities that would call together the children.

In the Usual Way.

All the Sunday Schools will have Christmas trees on Friday night. Christmas without a tree wouldn't be Christmas to the children. Put on something for the poorest child you know.

The election for incorporation of Kermit passed off quietly Saturday. Twenty-four votes, a majority of the resident voters within the proposed lines, were cast, all of which were for incorporating. #### Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pinches, blisters, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at A. M. HUGHES.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever."

THELMA.

Death has again visited our community and taken from our midst Mrs. Angie Hall, aged 33 years. She died November 29, 1910.

Mrs. Hall was the daughter of B. L. Davis. She leaves a husband, three small children and a host of friends and relatives, among them a father, five brothers and three sisters, to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Hall was a good Christian woman whose life though short might well be an example for all to follow. The night before she died she sang her favorite song, "The Beautiful Land." A few minutes before the end came she called her husband and little children to her bedside and told them not to grieve for her, that she was going home. Her father and brother and sisters were all at her home at the time of her death.

We would say to the bereaved ones, weep not as those who have no hope, but prepare to meet your loved one in the Beautiful Land on high, where we shall be free from all sorrow and pain. A Friend.

There is a strong probability that the next Legislature will take the selection of members of the Board of Control out of the hands of the Governor and provide for their election by the legislature.

Gov. Willson says that the members of the Board of Control must stay at their post of duty and devote their time to the service of the State.

And the Cadiz Record wants the Governor to set the example.

Good and Bad Behavior.

The conduct of a young man, or woman either as far as that is concerned, in a public place, indicates to a very great extent the character and breeding of the individual. Loud and boisterous talk, pushing, crowding, smoking—all these things are unnecessary, unseemly and calculated to give a very unfavorable impression of the worth of him who is guilty of acting in this way.

It is not essential to be a gentleman that one should be clad in purple and fine linen. Quite often the best dressed man in the company is the biggest boor and rowdy, and the ill-clad man the finest gentleman. "It's worth—and good breeding—that make the man, the want of it the fellow."

Strangers whose business calls them into a public place and who find it all but impossible to get through a crowd of young men and boys, jostling and making the air resound with their foolish jests and years. Upon the manner in which foul with the reeking odors of villainy—it is met will depend very largely the success of the continued often correct impressions of the improvement of the Big Sandy. To people among whom he comes. If you must go to public places, remember who you are and set a good example to others by your gentlemanly conduct.

Old Projects Revived.

Some of the Eastern Kentucky railroad projects which have been quiescent in the last two or three years are showing signs of life. Surveyors are said to be locating a line for the extension of the Lexington and Eastern from Jackson to the Elkhorn coal fields by way of Hindman. The Washto and Black Mountain Railway Company has increased its capital stock and is planning extensions of more than 100 miles in Letcher, Bell and Harlan counties.

It is one of the many evidences of increasing prosperity that these enterprises are taking on new life.

The extension of the Lexington and Eastern has been projected for many years. It would carry that road eighty miles farther into the heart of a country which has coal deposits of surpassing richness. There are a number of counties in Eastern Kentucky without railroads and all of them are rich in mineral resources. The extensions contemplated would reach several of these counties.

Railroad construction is costly anywhere. It is especially costly in a mountainous country like that of Eastern Kentucky. On that account the development has been slow, but the vast coal fields of that region cannot in the very nature of things be much longer neglected.

The world needs coal and Eastern Kentucky has it in quantities practically inexhaustible. Railroads will be required to get it out and the railroads will be built. Vast tracts of coal lands have been purchased by large corporations and when these corporations want the coal they will supply the means for mining and transporting it.

Eastern Kentucky should share liberally in whatever of general prosperity the years of the near future may bring.—Courier-Journal.

Our first page is published in call for a meeting of representative Big Sandians. It is the most important appointment that has been made for this valley for two or three years. Upon the manner in which soul with the reeking odors of villainy—it is met will depend very largely the success of the continued often correct impressions of the improvement of the Big Sandy. To show proper lack of interest just now would be fatal. Heretofore we have usual exhibited the necessary interest and enthusiasm. It was only this that has won appropriations in the past. With Mr. Barton against us the fight has been a hard one. He is now in the Senate and there is no reason to believe that his opposition will be any the less effectual.

The counties of the upper valley should take up this matter vigorously, hold meetings, appoint delegates and arrange for them to attend. The apportionment of delegates who will not go does not help things along. Raise the money to pay whatever expenses are needed and let's make a strong showing.

The river improvement is just getting to where it can be used. Some coal is now being shipped from the Torchlight mines by water.

The University of Copenhagen, the first institution of learning to recognize Dr. Cook's claims as the discoverer of the North Pole, declared that the explorer had significantly failed to prove his claim from the records submitted. Branded as an impostor by many of the leading scientists of the world, Dr. Cook's whereabouts are not even known to his most intimate friends. Dr. Cook's data were said to have been deflected in every way.

Cannon and Aldrich have adjourned till January 10. For this relief many thanks.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Louisa.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen and worse troubles quickly follow. This is often the true cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, sciencies, etc. Urine poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Louisa woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. C. A. Evans, of Louisa, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave such entire satisfaction in our family that in January, 1908, I publicly recommended them. Doan's Kidney pills were used for a week and immediately the result of disordered kidneys and they made a complete and permanent cure. I willingly allow the continued publication of my former testimonial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

What Does This Mean?

Judge S. G. Skinner and Attorney E. Poe Harris have leased the room adjoining the Tribune office, from Judge Burns and as soon as they can be put in a proper state of repair these gentlemen will occupy them as their law offices. Just what relationship is to exist between the Judge and the promising young attorney we have not yet been able to ascertain, hence cannot say whether or not they are to be partners in the full sense of the term. However, such a combination it would seem would be a very happy affair.—Catskill Tribune.

NEWS OF THE FARM.

Probably Cold.

A subscriber in Kentucky says her chickens have a peculiar disease and asks for a remedy. She says they eat heartily but stretch their necks as though they have difficulty in swallowing their food. Some of her hens have a rattling in their throats, though they appear to be well otherwise.

The fowls probably have colds which cause the trouble, but those that stretch out their necks may have blubber neck, a disease caused by maggots which gather in the crops. A few doses of turpentine daily for a week will give relief, and for colds a few days' confinement in warm rooms should cure them. This is the season of the year when colds are most prevalent, and we should watch our fowls with the greatest care.

Importance of Cleanliness.

The lack of sanitary conditions about the poultry houses and yards is the greatest factor in the transmission of diseases. The location of the poultry plant and its drainage are very important. Dampness in the poultry house and mud in the yards are most unfavorable conditions for poultry raising. The proper amount of space and ventilation in the houses should be carefully considered. Cleanliness is an essential sanitary condition, and accumulations of excrement lying about the houses are means for transmission of the most deadly diseases. These excrements, when in a moist condition in a warm house, harbor the parasites and bacteria which may be the means of destroying the entire flock.

In order to have the conditions right for poultry, the dropping boards should be cleaned at least once a week, and often if possible. A small quantity of road dust or land plaster should be sprinkled about. These materials will absorb the moisture and bad odors, and also add to the value of the droppings. The nests should be cleaned once a month, and the old nesting material be replaced with fresh, new straw. The addition of a little lime insect powder will help in eradicating lice and mites. An important factor in establishing sanitary conditions is the application of whitewash. There is no material more purifying than good hot whitewash. Cultivation and seedling will aid in keeping the yards sweet and clean. Eternal vigilance and cleanliness are necessary for success in raising poultry.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED
MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN
THE HOME CIRCLE.

These days of corporation it would truly seem to be a splendid plan if Santa Claus would look about and see if he could not incorporate himself, and so expand his usefulness to cover every corner of the land. I've noticed, as I've looked about on Christmas days gone by, a lot of little children who have failed to catch his eye, Who when the Yule was at its height had not a single toy or bit of peppermint to fill their little souls with joy. And there have been some persons who have ventured to remark Of credence in his being they had not the slightest spark. For had there been a person of this kind 'twas very sure There'd be some signs of presents in the hovels of the poor. . . .

Santa Claus.

Santa Claus was one of the oldest ideas of Celtic west in pagan times, as he was of the pagan east before. In Christian times he was still regarded with religious reverence, sitting, as he had sat for ages in Egypt and elsewhere, in the arms of his mother. Santa Claus was, in fact, the child Jesus in the middle ages; and throughout that period the festive creed of Germany and all Celtic Europe was that he visited all family dwellings of good Christians on the eve of his anniversary, and brought with him gifts and blessings for the children. This beautiful tradition is still to be found lingering in Germany, though Santa Claus does not seem to be especially connected with it by name. . . .

The Christmas Atmosphere. Getting ready for Christmas makes these weeks in December full of pleasant labors and anticipations. The majority of people are not millionaires. They do not have full purses with which they can go to the shops and buy their Christmas presents without regard to cost. They have a little money, and it requires a good deal of planning, of invention and loving thought, to make it go around. Often times the money is only enough to buy the raw materials from which patient and skillful fingers will fashion the gifts. If we could look into many a home we should see the children planning some surprise on Christmas morning for fathers and mothers, and the parents in turn consulting how to manage to give the boys and girls what they want. It is this mutual thoughtfulness for others that imparts to these December days a peculiar atmosphere. It will soften the heart of the crustiest old bachelor to go into the Christmas shops and overhear the consultations among purchasers as to what they shall get. Even as you walk along the streets you observe a peculiar light in the eyes of the women shoppers. They do not have it at any other season of the year, except perchance when they are making ready for a wedding. . . .

Christmas for the Aged.

Make the Christmas a glad time for the aged. Let each child, even the baby, have its little tribute to bring. Let the dear old heart know that its own gift, however simple, is prized and expected by every one of the household band. Help the trembling hands that may have grown slow to fashion the dainty miracles of needlework. Keep all the secrets of what she is going to give to this, that, or the other friend. Go patiently on the shopping jaunts, even if the feet are slow and the eyes take a great deal of time in searching for "just the right thing." Alas for the day when grandmother is no longer here to "do" for us or to be "done" for!

Let us remember how surely that day is coming nearer, and that, to make her thoroughly happy and conscious of how dear and necessary she is, is our only way of beguiling the angel to linger in the home. As the truest joy comes always from the consciousness of power to bless, so the more fully we can convince the angel of the blessing they are to us, through their experience and their presence, and through their angelhood, that has so often been in their sorrows, the more we shall minister to them. They are often afraid of becoming useless, conscious of failing powers, fearful of being in the way, or casting a shadow on the household mirth. See to it, dear young friends, that on this of all days of the year they have made to know how much we love and need the light of the faded faces, and assure them by every gentle attention that Christmas would not be Christmas without the "angel in the house."

Christmas and Santa Claus.

The very name of Christmas seems laden with good things. There is a ring of joy in its tone and one can only associate it with pleasant thoughts and fond remembrances. Christmas to the child is the brightest star in the year's firmament. It is the beacon light on which their little eyes and thoughts are ever fastened. Christmas for the aged seems to have been set near the door of the departing year as a fountain of youth, from which they might draw a fresh supply of health and vigor for the coming year. Christmas and Santa Claus go hand in hand. They are links in one chain. Without Santa Claus there could be no Christmas and certainly at no other time of the year would old Santa be allowed admittance by way of the chimney instead of the door.

Christmas is the same this year, last year and all the years before. It is old, yet 'tis new. It is a thing of the past, of the present and will be of the future until time immortal.

Who is there among us too old to remember the Christmas of his childhood? Is there one who does not look back upon it as the happiest day of his life?

Even now in our maturer years we cannot help but enthuse at the approach of this merry day. We find enjoyment in watching the happiness of the little ones about us and though we may have passed the three score years and ten, yet the merry Christmas and its fulness of joy seems to kindle anew the flame of life, and carry us back to the days of our childhood.

We are back again at the old home; we once more hang our little stocking—or larger one borrowed for the occasion—conveniently near the fireplace. We reluctantly retire to our bed where sleep has a hard fight to master the excitement attending our expectations. Again it is morning—the happy Christmas morn—and all aglow with excitement and almost wild with delight, we rush, half dressed, to gaze upon the bountiful feast which old Santa Claus has left behind. Let us try to make this day the brightest page in childhood's book of memories. Let us fill it so full of happiness that the little ones will ever delight in associating happy thoughts with Christmas of 1909.

Precious Meaning.

"Except ye become as little children" is fraught with precious meaning. The kingdom of innocence is above all earthly dignities. The crown it wears brings no anguish, entails no fear. Clear-eyed and clean-hearted, the little children of the world stand on the heights nearest heaven. The condescension that brings older persons on the same plane with them is no condescension at all, but rather a coming back to one's own best estate. Of all the days of the year, Christmas is the best on which to "turn back the leaves of life" and lay aside the "wrinkled spoils of age." This day marks the anniversary of the birth of the Prince of babes, the great lover of little children. So, let every parent let go of care for one day and go to the little folks, enter into their sports and claim an interest in all their affairs, of which they have so many of magnitude today.

Let the store and the office, the court-room and counting-room run themselves, or not run at all—what's the difference? Christmas is eminently the children's day. From the gray of early dawn—it is the only day in winter when their eyes open at that hour—to the latest hour at night, let everything give way to the little autocrats whose tyranny is courted by every man and woman who has any of the essence of love in his breast. Romp and tumble and shout with them. When another Christmas comes, some of them will not be here, and those that are will, by one year be that much further from the royalty that doth so fittingly become them.

Christmas is for the children—let everything bend to their enjoyment. . . .

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

The Court of Appeals has reversed the case of Brown, etc., vs. C. & O. Railway, Pike.

As a result of an accident up at Pikeville, in which a youngster was hurt while playing on an unlocked turn-table of the C. & O., the turn-table doctrine is upheld by the Court of Appeals. Railroad companies must keep the turn-tables under their control and operation locked, or else be liable for any injury that may occur to children who got hurt playing on them. This positive unqualified rule was laid down by the Court of Appeals in the case of Thomas Brown against the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company.

From the gray of early dawn—it is the only day in winter when their eyes open at that hour—to the latest hour at night, let everything give way to the little autocrats whose tyranny is courted by every man and woman who has any of the essence of love in his breast. Romp and tumble and shout with them. When another Christmas comes, some of them will not be here, and those that are will, by one year be that much further from the royalty that doth so fittingly become them.

Christmas is for the children—let everything bend to their enjoyment. . . .

The Pike County Medical Society held its monthly meeting on Monday evening of last week, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected thus: President, Dr. Z. A. Thompson; Vice President, Dr. J. W. Vicars; Secretary, Dr. R. C. Booth; Treasurer, Dr. J. W. Walters. The permanent members of this society will, at the beginning of the new year, take up the very important matter of the erection of an up-to-date or modern hospital at that place.

Dr. Z. A. Thompson has returned with his wife to Lexington, where she goes to continue treatment at the asylum. Mrs. Thompson had improved so rapidly during her stay that her doting husband brought her home in the hope that she could continue treatment at home. She has been home several months, but her mental condition has grown worse lately, with the result that she must return for the time being at least. Her mother, Mrs. Jeff Burgess, who has been with her for the past several weeks, accompanied them as far as her home at Gallup—Pikeville cor. Independent.

Dr. W. L. Gambill left this morning for Paintsville, to enter upon his new duties as physician for the Consolidation Coal Company's mining camp.—Ashland Independent.

Salyersville, Ky., Dec. 15.—The special term of the Magoffin Circuit Court closed today. The term was practically consumed by the criminal docket, which resulted in three convictions to the penitentiary. Camilius Arnett was given twelve years for the murder of Geo. W. Anderson, on Middle Fork, last April. Henry Owens, colored, was given eleven years for the murder of Roscoe Dale, colored, last September, near the Licking river pump station, and Frank James Hale was given one year for confederating, but on account of his age, 15 years, the Judge commuted his sentence to six months in the Reform School at Lexington.

Which Equinox?

Yesterday was the shortest day of the year, the sun having crossed the line and from now until the 21st of June there will be a gradual lengthening of the daylight. True to the doings of nature at the equinoctial period, there was falling weather, the snow having begun to fall at a short while before midnight last night.—Cattletburg Tribune.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

J. R. Geiske, the architect, is preparing the plans for the $50,000 hotel to be erected here in the spring. Rumor has it that the hotel will be built on Second Street at the corner of College. The first intention was to locate it at the corner of Main and Court streets, but we understand the deal for that property has fallen through.—Paintsville Herald.

was immediately summoned, but the injuries were too extensive to render medical aid to any avail. The little one died the day following noon. The burial took place Thursday in the forenoon. The bereaved mother has the deepest sympathy of her friends.—Harold Item.

Mrs. Sarah J. Stewart.

A Huntington newspaper of recent date had a glowing eulogy upon the life and character of Mrs. Sarah J. Stewart, who died in that city a week or so ago.

Mrs. Stewart was a native of this county. Her maiden name was Lyman, and she was born in the Bear creek or Durbin creek neighborhood. She married James Stewart, an uncle of the late Judge James E. Stewart, of Louisa. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart moved to Guyandotte, where they settled and became identified with the history of that place and the country which afterwards became Huntington and its suburbs.

She was largely identified with the Southern Confederacy, and her devotion to it knew no bounds, and it was while the war was on that her courage was so frequently displayed. She was arrested once as a spy and many times since has spoken of her experience which occurred in Catlettsburg, Ky. She had gone along the lines in company with Mrs. Miller, of Guyandotte, now of Barboursville, the two making their way stealthily to the Kentucky town to secure medicine to send by sympathizers into "Dixie." They were arrested as spies and held for some time, until proof was procured to the effect that they were not guilty, and they were allowed to return home.

Another incident of an exciting character in the life of this brave woman occurred while she was attending Marshall College during the war. Both armies were encamped in that section of the country close to the dividing line between the North and South, when Mrs. Stewart learned of the presence of a famous Northern spy in the camp of the Southerners, then located at Guyandotte. Stealing away from Marshall College at the dead of night, the brave girl made her way to the Guyandotte headquarters of the general in charge of the division of the Southern army and warned him of the spy's presence, then returned to her room alone, the danger of her action in that wild time never daunting her. The spy she informed against was afterward captured and shot on the banks of the Ohio, near that city. On him were found the data telling of the size of various companies of the Confederate army, their location and proposed movements. Had this spy succeeded in getting through the lines with his dangerous information, there is no telling what the cost would have been to the Confederate army, and the woman who had effected the situation so fraught with danger to her beloved South, remained unknown, her bravery unacknowledged save among the few to whom she afterward told the story.
